We hope the Republicans will select two candidates as their vis-a-vis of whom the Democrats will be forced to say as much. If so, the selections will fortunately supplement what was left lacking in the remainder of the Democratic legislative g the Court House. Nevertheless the ticket yesterday, for even Democrats them will not deny that as to the other two candidates there is great need indeed for a supplement, and more particularly in the case of the "country delegate." Clerk, he seems to have run away with the opposition in his party at the primaries o such an extent as to secure a nomination by acclamation as an opening over ture to yesterday's business. Whether he can thus distance competition at the polls is further along. He is said to be a very competent man for the place to which he aspires, and, so far as we are informed, has good record as a public officer.

As to the Circuit Court Clerkship, Barney

Misery, Desolation and Death Per-Four Hundred Cases in a Population

Bellaher Locals. - Our city was alive with excitement and enthusiasm yesterday forenoon on the appearance of the large body of military preparing to proceed to the Soldiers' Reunion at Marietta. The following composed the troop. Col. C. S. S. Baron, of this city, Lieu.-Col. MeBeth, of Steubenville; Major Moore, of Barnesville; Adjutant Davis, of Barnesville; Quartermaster Brown, of this city, and seven companies of the 2d Regiment, O. N. G., as follows: Companies A, B and C, of Steubenville, Capt. Zimmerman, Lieut. Floto and Capt. Doty, commanding, respectively; Co. D, of Bellaire, Capt. Ault; Co. E., of St. Clairsville, Capt. Cowen; Co. F. of Barnesville, Capt. Sheppard; Co. H. of Cadiz; Capt. Hartington, and Co. I, of Hunter, Capt. Patterson. The companies had all arrived about 11:39 A. N., when they were marched to the public square for a review by the Staff, after which, headed by the Regimental Band, under command of Drum-Major H. D. Meek, proceeded to the wharf to embark for their destination. Without turther comment, we would say that the Regiment considering, presented a very soldierly appearance, and a marked training of strict military discipline. In the ranks of the Regiment we noticed not a few who had shouldered the musket during the late unpleasantness for the preservance of this glorious Union. The band discoursed excellent music. Among the performers we noticed Prof. Henry Vaas and a few others of your city. A large number of people from here accompanied the military to Marietta.

Before the military arrived at their place of embarkation a few stragglers could be seen on the barge awaiting developments. On one end was the Gatling gun, and saddles and harness for the horses. On the other could be seen valises, bundles, carpet sacks and various other war implements. One valise had beside One valise had beside war implements. One valise had beside it a forlorn looking watermelon, which, no it a forforn looking watermelon, which, no doubt, was to play an important part on the trip down the beautiful Ohio. The members of the various companies now began to arrive by twos, fives and so on, tugging tin cans, canteens, and other bundles, the whole presenting an animated appearance. Every convenient spot was taken up to store away their baggage. All appeared to be in good humor and benton having a good time, which, from all appearances the boys are gring to have.

EGICAL OPERATION. Mr. Thomas B oglebay Sons, while chewing a wooden tooth-pick several months ago, had a sliver from the pick imbedded in the flesh underneath his tongue, which has since caused him much soreness and pain, producing a large lump upon the right side of his throat. Yesterday Dr. Harvey lanced the enlargement and tound the splinter. Since the operation Mr. McGrail feels much more comfortable, and the swelling has almost subsided.

Newspaper Sale.

Ears, P.A., September 2.—The Dispatch, the only morning paper in this city and one of the oldest dailies in Northwestern Pennsylvania, became the executive property of J. R. Willard to-day, he having purchased the interests of his late partners, Ben Brower and Wesley Hooker. The change was caused by political differences.

Milwarker, September 2.—About 7:30 this evening the steamer John A. Dix, while lying alongside of Goodrich's dock, caught fire in the after hold. The city engines were promptly on the spot, and with great difficulty succeeded in extinguishing he fire. Loss estimated at from five to ten thousand dollars on the boat and two to three thousand dollars on the freight. No insurance.
